Hoosier Highlights: Spring 2014

We've had a busy spring in IU Athletics with several programs seeing postseason play. We're proud to share with you a number of Hoosier highlights from the past few months.

IU Baseball won the Big Ten Tournament and were the outright Big Ten Champions for the second straight season. IU swept the major conference awards with Tracy Smith once again being named Big Ten Coach of the Year, first baseman Sam Travis named Big Ten Player of the Year, and Joey DeNato named Big Ten Pitcher of the Year. The Hoosiers also ... Read more.

Former Student-Athlete Spotlight: Whitey Kapsalis Shares Story of Passion, Perseverance and Patience in New Book about IU Soccer

Paul "Whitey" Kapsalis may not be a familiar name, but his journey to become an IU soccer player is nothing short of heroic. Undersized and told he wasn't good enough to play at IU, Kapsalis beat the odds from walk-on player in 1983 and a career-threatening injury to ultimately become a team leader and co-captain on one of the most elite soccer teams in the country.

Kapsalis has just released an inspiring memoir of his IU experiences, co-written by his cousin and Pulitzer-prize winning Chicago ... Read more.

Baseball NCAA Regional at Bart Kaufman Field

The Indiana Hoosiers are the No. 4 overall seed in the 2014 NCAA Baseball Championship, as announced on Monday by the NCAA Division I Baseball Committee. IU will welcome Indiana State, Stanford and Youngstown State to Bart Kaufman Field for the NCAA Regional on May 30-June 2.

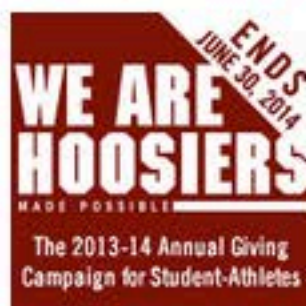

The Hoosiers are the first Big Ten program to ever earn a national seed. Indiana is the top seed among the four programs that will play in Bloomington. The double-elimination competition will begin on Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. ... Read more.

Men's Basketball Ticket Renewals Due June 30!

Plan Now for I-69 Construction on IU Gamedays

Construction is currently underway to add two sections to Interstate 69. Section 4 runs from U.S. 231 near Crane NSWC/NSA to S.R. 37 south of Bloomington. Section 5 runs from S.R. 37 south of Bloomington along existing S.R. 37 to the S.R. 39 interchange just south of Martinsville.

During construction, lane restrictions are expected, which may add to your travel time on game days. Section 4 is expected to open fully to traffic in 2015; Section 5 in 2016. ... Read more.

Season Tickets Now Available for Fall Sports

Season tickets are now available for upcoming seasons of IU sports including volleyball, men's soccer, football and women's basketball.

Cheering on your Hoosiers can earn you 30 priority points each year! You earn 20 accumulative points for every continuous year you are a season ticket holder in football and men's basketball. You can also earn an additional 10 points each year for purchasing season tickets in at least one of these additional sports: women's basketball, baseball, men's soccer and volleyball. ...
